

Young Bangladeshi Idol for 2007!

You may all know Shannon Noll, Guy Sebastian, Delta Goodram and Nikki Webster. I'm sure you all do. But on the 4th of August 2007, the most intriguing voice, received a ticket to my ears. And it was very surprising when I turned to see who was singing.

Tamim is only 11 years old but has the most wonderful voice I've ever heard. He sang on stage at Aneek bhai's wedding reception at the Orion function centre in Campsie. His singing pitch was unbelievable. Not only his voice but his performance was unreal. He looked so professional in his tuxedo. The way he danced and engaged the audience was so much like a star. He was going, 'Come on, everybody!' to make them clap to the beat of the song. He really entertained the audience. Everybody was just amazed.

His voice pulled my eyes away from my portable electronic game machine and over to him. I could not take my eyes off him. He was singing superbly, his voice blew me away. Sadly I couldn't keep up with the song as I do not know Hindi at all. Of all the young performers I ever listened to, Tamim was the best. I rate his performance, hundred out of hundred. When he finished his excellent performance, I congratulated him with a hand shake.

Tamim, I declare you the Young Bangladeshi Idol for 2007!
